Situation

Dorking is a friendly and bustling market town, situated in the heart of the Surrey Hills and the North Downs way. The High Street is full of local, independent stores as well as national supermarkets including Waitrose, Sainsbury's and Marks & Spencer.

In and around the town there are several excellent state schools, including St Josephs, St Martins, St. Pauls, St. Johns and Powell Corderoy, Dorking's oldest school, and secondary education with the Ashcombe and the Priory C of E. Within the general vicinity are many golf courses including the championship golf course at Walton Heath, the RAC Country Club at Epsom and the private members course at Beaverbrook near Leatherhead.

The countryside surrounding Dorking, part of the Surrey Hills AONB, is some of the most stunning that the UK has to offer and can be reached within minutes from the town. On its doorstep is the famous Box Hill, the stunning landscapes and woodlands of Leith Hill, Norbury Park, Ranmore Common and Holmwood Common, and slightly further afield, the ancient woodlands of Abinger Roughs and Netley Park. Walkers can also enjoy the Deepdene Trail and the Mole Gap Trail.

Junction 9 of the M25 (approximately five miles) provides convenient access to the national motorway network. Gatwick and Heathrow airports are approximately twelve and twenty-five miles away respectively, by local roads or the M25, which can be accessed at Junctions 8 or 9 (Reigate or Leatherhead).

Situated on the outskirts of Dorking, is Denbie's Wine Estate, England's largest vineyard and the town itself is well-served for music and culture by the art deco Dorking Halls, home of the Leith Hill Music Festival, and for sports and leisure activities, by the Dorking Sports Centre. Dorking is served by three train stations enabling easy access to London.
