A peaceful rural retreat with exceptional character, privacy and views

Grade II Listed thatched cottage offers a rare combination of period character, privacy, generous outdoor space and far-reaching countryside views.

Approached through its attractive grounds, the cottage has the feel of a peaceful country retreat. Inside, exposed beams, a vaulted ceiling and traditional features complement comfortable and versatile accommodation.

The country-style kitchen forms the heart of the home, with an oil-fired Rayburn and adjoining utility room. The dining area leads into the dual-aspect lounge, a welcoming room with exposed beams, window seat and fireplace housing a wood-burning stove. The bathroom has a distinctive boutique feel, while upstairs are two bedrooms and a generous open landing, offering useful space for a study, reading area or snug.

A major attraction is the detached one-bedroom annexe, providing flexibility for guests, extended family or independent accommodation. It includes a living room with log burner and French doors to the countryside views, kitchenette, double bedroom and shower room.

The generous gardens provide excellent privacy and space for gardening, entertaining or simply enjoying the surroundings. A separate shepherd's hut offers further flexibility, while a well-insulated outbuilding is ideal as a home office, studio or hobby room.

There is ample parking, including two driveway spaces and additional on-street parking.

The elevated position offers an ever-changing rural outlook, while the Dark Sky setting provides spectacular night skies. A genuinely individual country home offering privacy, character and flexible accommodation in a beautiful landscape.
