LOCATION

Situated on the periphery of the city of St. Asaph, the property enjoys an enviably private and tranquil position within the heart of completely unspoiled countryside whilst being conveniently close to amenities and access to the A55 Expressway. Excellent village amenities are available at nearby Trefnant including village store, pub, restaurant and primary school, whilst the larger centres of Denbigh and St. Asaph provide a more comprehensive range of shopping, leisure and schooling facilities. The A55

Expressway is accessed at St. Asaph and provides excellent links to Chester, Anglesey and the towns of the North Wales Coast.

THE ACCOMMODATION

This elegant country residence was constructed in 1929 in an Arts and Crafts style by the renowned architect Sir Guy Dauber to provide a spacious home of quality in a most tranquil setting. The accommodation within is particularly spacious and versatile with approximately 5000 square feet of living space over three floors.

Upon entering, the impressive reception hall with slabbed flooring, coved ceilings and timber turned staircase leads through to the reception rooms which comprise of a splendid drawing room with large sash windows overlooking the formal grounds. The impressive dining room also enjoys a Southerly aspect and is flooded with natural light, providing a superb space for more formal occasions whilst the sitting room offers a cosy space for relaxing. A rear hallway provides access to a number of ancillary rooms including cloakroom with separate wc and former butler's pantry currently used as an utility room. The snug offers a welcoming place with herringbone flooring, fireplace and window overlooking the orchard.

The kitchen is accessed from both the rear hallway and snug and provides a well appointed working space with modern appliances, ample storage units, working surfaces, central island, quarry tiled flooring and dual aspect windows and in turn gives access to the sunny orangery which benefits from underfloor heating.

Two separate staircases lead to the first floor and give access to five bedrooms, all displaying character features and enjoying stunning views over the grounds and surrounding countryside. 3 bathrooms, separate shower room and linen store complete the accommodation to the first floor. The second floor, formerly the servants' quarters, provide 3 further double bedrooms together with spacious bathroom and attic stores.

GROUND, BUILDINGS AND LAND

The property is approached via a sweeping driveway opening to a turning circle providing ample off-road parking. The residence and courtyard outbuildings sit centrally within the grounds which provide South facing formal gardens with extensive lawns, pond, established plants, topiary and extensive sun terrace taking in the beautiful views. The remainder of the formal grounds comprise of walled lawns, mature orchard and woodland area and mature trees and hedging to the boundaries provide shelter and screening.

The courtyard outbuildings are attached to the main residence and provide a double garage, former stables and numerous stores together with utility room and wc. Cellar access from the courtyard. The brick built stable block benefits from power and water supply to the yard.

The land comprises of two grass paddocks which abut the grounds and there is vehicular access from the lane together with gated access from the orchard lawns. In all, the property amounts to 6.31 acres and is sold with the benefit of fishing rights to the River Clwyd.
