North Mews, Bloomsbury WC1

Overview

Quietly positioned on North Mews, this substantial three bedroom penthouse combines generous lateral proportions with impressive ceiling heights, excellent natural light and a private outlook across the surrounding rooftops of Bloomsbury.

The building was originally developed by Marldon in the 1990s, when the former office accommodation was transformed into a collection of 14 apartments. The upper floor was extended to create two penthouses, including Flat 14, with its distinctive curved roofline giving the apartment much of its individual architectural character.

The principal living space is undoubtedly the centrepiece. Arranged on an impressive scale, it features a vaulted double-height ceiling, high-level rooflights and large floor to ceiling windows arranged along one side, allowing fantastic natural light to move through the room throughout the day. A generous private balcony runs alongside the living space, creating a strong connection to the outside and an elevated outlook over the neighbouring rooftops.

Pale timber flooring and simple, understated finishes keep the emphasis on the proportions and sense of volume, with the dining area incorporated into the main reception room and a separate contemporary kitchen flowing naturally from it, separated when required by an ingenious sliding bookcase. The main hallway connects all rooms throughout the apartment, which again features vast ceiling heights with numerous roof lights, as well as a mezzanine space which adds another useful dimension to the apartment, either as a study area or snug.

There are three well-proportioned bedrooms, including a generous principal bedroom with an en-suite bathroom, dressing area and direct access to a balcony overlooking the mews. A second bathroom serves the remaining bedrooms and guests, while fitted storage provides plenty of practical space.

Secure gated off-street parking is another particularly valuable feature in such a central location, while the building further benefits from lift access. North Mews sits in a particularly appealing corner of central London, positioned between Bloomsbury, Clerkenwell and Holborn.

Nearby Lamb's Conduit Street has a relaxed, village-like atmosphere, with a strong mix of independent shops, including contemporary menswear names such as Folk and Oliver Spencer, numerous pubs and cafés, the Bloomsbury branch of La Fromagerie and restaurants including Noble Rot and local institution Ciao Bella.

The British Museum is within walking distance, while Clerkenwell and Exmouth Market are easily reached to the east, bringing an excellent mix of restaurants, pubs, design businesses and independent shops. Chancery Lane Underground station is close by for Central line services into the City, with nearby buses providing straightforward connections towards Oxford Circus and Piccadilly. Farringdon also offers Elizabeth line services across London and out to Heathrow, with Thameslink trains offering direct links to Gatwick and the South Coast.

To the north, King's Cross offers Granary Square, Coal Drops Yard and Regent's Canal, while Covent Garden, Soho and the wider West End are all within comfortable walking distance.

People Make Places

London is a collection of inspiring urban villages and one of the most exciting places in the world to live, work & play.

We work with both property owners and their occupiers, sharing the story of these vibrant neighbourhoods, conveying the unique soul & energy to future custodians, the people who'll keep them buzzing.

And unlike many real estate businesses we're not just about buildings, because streets & buildings don't make a neighbourhood.

We're about building relationships, because people make places.
