SITUATION

Port Isaac is a highly regarded and picturesque fishing village situated on the rugged North Cornwall coast, renowned for its historic cottages, winding streets and attractive harbour. The village has provided the backdrop for a number of film and television productions, most notably ITV's Doc Martin, starring Martin Clunes, in which the property is featured.

Port Isaac is also synonymous with the acclaimed local shanty singing group, The Fisherman's Friends, who can regularly be found performing on The Platt during the summer months. The village has a strong and welcoming community, together with a good range of amenities for everyday needs and an excellent selection of restaurants, including two establishments associated with renowned chef Nathan Outlaw.

The surrounding coastline and countryside provide an outstanding setting for enjoying a wide range of outdoor pursuits, with walking, sailing, surfing and other recreational activities readily accessible.

THE PROPERTY

Set in the Conservation Area and approached via an external staircase from the courtyard at The Old Bakehouse Flats, this spacious and generous top-floor maisonette enjoys an elevated position with attractive countryside and harbour views.

Originally a corn warehouse, the property retains a number of charming historic features and has recently benefited from extensive remedial works, including new double-glazed sash windows, lime render and plastering, and redecoration.

The well-presented accommodation comprises three bedrooms, a bathroom and separate WC. The light and airy living spaces feature high ceilings, wood flooring and sash windows, with a spacious open-plan kitchen/dining room and separate sitting room enjoying harbour views and an original warehouse door.

The property is on a 999 year lease from November 1989 with a share of the freehold under Stanley (Residents) Limited.
