MARSKE STABLES

BUILDING OUR FUTURE FROM OUR PAST

The Stables

As you approach the courtyard, a sense of tranquility envelops you, heightened by the picturesque setting and the distant echoes of hoofbeats that once filled the air. The courtyard serves as a communal hub, with each cottage facing inwards, creating a sense of shared privacy. Two majestic peacocks, their vibrant plumage adding a touch of regality, roam freely, enhancing the serene ambiance of the surroundings.

Upon entering each holiday cottage, guests are greeted with a seamless blend of modern comfort and historic charm. The original features of the stables have been carefully preserved, from the sturdy beams to the rustic brickwork, harmonizing with contemporary amenities to create an ambiance that is both nostalgic and indulgent.

Every cottage boasts its own unique quirk, adding a distinctive flavor to the overall experience. One cottage, for instance, surprises guests with a jacuzzi bath strategically placed in the main open living space. Imagine unwinding in the warm embrace of bubbles while gazing at the exposed beams and historic surroundings—an experience that seamlessly merges luxury with heritage.

The attention to detail in the renovation process extends to the interior decor, with each cottage thoughtfully designed to complement its individual quirks. The furnishings are a blend of modern sophistication and timeless elegance, creating an inviting atmosphere that encourages relaxation and indulgence.

Whether you are drawn to the cosy fireplace in one cottage or the charming window seat in another, each space has been curated to offer a distinct ambiance. Guests are invited to immerse themselves in the rich history of the stables while savoring the contemporary comforts that have been seamlessly integrated into the design.

Equestrian Heritage

Marske was a Darley Arabian Thoroughbred racehorse.

Marske (1750 – 1779) A Jockey club Plate winner was a thoroughbred racehorse best known as siring the legendary Eclipse (1764-1789) The book, The story of the Rogue, the Madam and the Horse that changed Racing, was his Biography. Many races and titles are named after Eclipse. The horse became a legend and people said, “Eclipse first the rest nowhere.” he ran 83 feet per second at top speed and covered 25 feet in a single stride.
Eclipse was an undefeated 18th century British racehorse that won 18 races, including 11 Kings Plates. After retiring he became a very successful sire and today appears in the pedigree of most modern Thoroughbreds. Eclipse still ranks forth in all time leading Thoroughbred racehorses.

The Equestrian Opportunity

The Equestrian heritage will be re-introduced into the full development of Marske. We will name the accommodation after famous racehorses and introduce the links to the Arabian history. Incorporating the history of Marske and Thoroughbred racehorses in Britain. We are also hoping to incorporate The Warhorse Memorial Trust as our charity and hopefully arrange fund raising events and fully involve the equestrian community. We also are negotiating with British wine producers to hopefully supply bottles of sparkling wine called Eclipse and indeed local brewers to produce our own bottled beers Marske real Ale.
We will introduce locally produced Cheeses, Jams and preserves in a local farm shop on site together with some basic essentials to cater for guests.
