About the home

The property is triple-glazed throughout, with the exception of the double-glazed attic Velux windows. The reception room features high ceilings that continue throughout the property, bathed in natural light courtesy of both a classic bay window and a second large window. Dark-stained original wood floorboards run underfoot, while a handsome cast-iron fireplace serves as a striking focal point. Nearby, the kitchen boasts sleek modern cabinetry and a timeless black-and-white checkerboard floor.

Both bedrooms are located on this floor, each thoughtfully designed with built-in storage to maximise space. The main bedroom is flooded with light from two large windows and finished with elegant picture rails and coving that nod to the property's history. Serving the home is a traditional bathroom featuring a shower over the bath, light pink walls, modern fixtures, and original pine floorboards, while also discreetly housing the washer-dryer. The converted loft space, currently utilised as a home study and craft room, is illuminated by two large skylight windows and offers eaves storage.

Outside, the property continues to impress with a shared west-facing rear garden. It features a paved patio area at the far end, wrapped in a lush mix of mature plants and flowers, making it the ultimate spot for alfresco dining.

Location

Located moments from Lloyd Park, home to the William Morris Gallery, tennis courts, and a Saturday market, the property is also within easy reach of the Walthamstow Wetlands. Local favourites like Bell Corner and the Blackhorse Beer Mile are close by for exceptional coffee, independent businesses and craft breweries. Commuting is simple with Walthamstow Central nearby, offering swift Victoria line and overground links.
