An immaculate Victorian family home dating from the 1800s, with three double bedrooms and a refined blend of period character and contemporary living. Set in Berkhamsted's Conservation Area, it's within easy walking distance of the High Street and mainline station, with private parking.

The ground floor has a welcoming lounge with a charming fireplace, alongside the family bathroom and an impressive open plan kitchen, living and dining space. Solid oak parquet flooring runs seamlessly throughout the lounge and main living areas, giving the ground floor a cohesive and understated feel.
A particular feature is the seven metre L-shaped run of bi-fold doors, which brings an exceptional amount of natural light into the kitchen and living space and creates a generous sense of connection across the room. The kitchen is fitted with stylish contemporary units and a peninsula, making it a practical and sociable part of the home.

Upstairs, the first floor provides two double bedrooms, both with dual aspect windows that make the most of the natural light. The second floor is dedicated to the principal bedroom, a spacious double with an open plan ensuite shower and WC.
