Transport

With journey times to London Waterloo from 15 minutes, Surbiton provides easy access to the City and the West End via the rail network, it’s easy to see why Surbiton is so popular with commuters. Trains also stop at key stations such as Clapham Junction and Vauxhall. Surbiton station also offers popular routes out of London to primary commuter locations such as Woking, Basingstoke, Southampton and Guildford.

Kingston is similarly well connected for rail, with journey times around 30 minutes into London Waterloo and 27 minutes to Shepperton via Teddington and Hampton.

The A3 is within easy reach, travelling to either Heathrow and Gatwick airports will take you only 40 and 30 minutes respectively. Alternatively, you can escape to the country with the Surrey Hills and South Downs National Park both less than one hour away.

Amenities

Surbiton provides a calmer, more suburban atmosphere. Areas like Maple Road, with its cafés, fine restaurants and public houses offering a more relaxed village feel. Kingston is just a nine minute drive which is the main shopping hub for south west London. Most major high street brands can be found in either one of two centres or in the bustling streets. The Bentall Centre is home to over 1,000 stylish brands across 75 stores, including womens, mens and kids fashion, beauty, home, food technology and more.

Both Surbiton and Kingston have an abundance of convenience stores. You’re never far away from a Waitrose, Sainsburys or Tesco for your weekly shop.

Dining Out

With so many renowned places to eat and drink, it may be easier to list what isn’t available. The Antelope, Pizza Express, The Grove and The Harts Boat Yard are just a few of the popular restaurants within easy reach. There is a wealth of fine independent restaurant’s available including The French Table offering superb French and European cuisine, Thai Secret and Doosra offering authentic Indian cuisine to name only a few.

Schools

Surbiton has a pick of nurseries, junior and secondary schools, colleges and universities on your door step with good to outstanding ratings. With Kingston being home to some of the top-ranking schools in the London borough it’s a great place for your child to get an excellent education.

Parks, green space and recreation

The borough offers some fabulous recreational spaces and parks. St Andrews House is situated near the River Thames and a short drive from Richmond Park, the largest of London’s Royal parks is also very accessible. Measuring 2,360 acres and bustling with deer and wildlife, it’s a wonderful location to walk, run, cycle, picnic, or simply relax and enjoy the landscape.

The Thames path along the river forms part of the National Trail which links Richmond to the historic Hampton Court Palace, via quiet rural settings like Teddington Lock. It’s a beautiful stretch of river to explore by foot or by boat.
