A substantial four-bedroom, two-reception-room detached bungalow occupying a generous plot of approximately 0.13 acres, offering an exciting opportunity for builders, developers and investors. The property has suffered from subsidence caused by clay shrinkage. It has been stabilised by tree removal and monitoring including through the dry summer of 2026 has indicated that it is now stable. It is now ready for superstructure repair but offers considerable potential for refurbishment and value enhancement. Subject to planning consents, there may also be scope to redevelop the site, including the potential creation of a larger two-storey detached house. The existing accommodation provides a strong starting point for a comprehensive refurbishment, while the generous plot and location could make this an attractive proposition for those seeking a project with development potential. The property is situated in the sought-after small town of Woburn Sands, bordering Bedfordshire and Buckinghamshire, benefiting from the area's established residential setting and access to local amenities and transport links.
